

CPF-SK Presents Centennial Awards

CPF-SK Board President Rose-Marie Bouvier with Pat Atkinson, Minister Responsible for the Public Service Commission of Saskatchewan

On Friday February 25 Pat Atkinson, MLA for Saskatoon-Nutana and Minister Responsible for the Public Service Commission presented Saskatchewan Centennial awards to two deserving CPF recipients. The awards are to be presented to one individual who has made an important contribution to the history of the organization and to one who the organization views as a future leader.

Georgette Chrispen, provincial board member and long-time FSL activist received an award in recognition of her years of support for parents and their children who are learning French as a second-language. Georgette has spent 16 years as a French immersion teacher in northern Saskatchewan and now retired, continues as a substitute teacher, volunteer and elder in her community of La Ronge, in addition to serving on the CPF-SK Board.

The second award was presented to Mathew Conley. Mathew is in his second year of teaching, currently at École Monseigneur Blaise Morand in North Battleford. He has been active volunteering in CPF Youth programs over the years. People of all ages have benefited from his enthusiasm, sense of humour and passion for the French language, at Mini Rendez-vous, Rendez-vous, and CPF summer camps. Mathew has travelled the province on behalf of CPF-SK spreading his enthusiasm for learning and using French. We look forward to many years of working together.

The celebratory reception attended by MLA's Eric Cline (Minister of Industry and Resources), David Forbes (Minister of the Environment), and Frank Quennell (Minister of Justice), along with a representative from the office of MP Tom Lukiwski, partners, chapter and board members and friends of CPF-SK was the kick-off to the CPF-SK Chapter Planning Meeting. The event gave representatives of CPF-SK chapters from around the province, along with provincial Board members, an opportunity to meet with each other and partners in an informal setting. The following day, participants got to work learning more about FSL events and activities as they met with René Boudreau, Liaison Officer from the Office of the Commissioner of Official Languages, Florent Bilodeau,

Award winners Georgette Chrispen and Mathew Conley with CPF-SK Office Assistant, Tyler Klassen

Director of the Office of French-Language Coordination for the Government of Saskatchewan and Evelyn Gaudet, Development Officer with the Assemblée communautaire fransaskoise. An important component of the day was the opportunity for delegates to develop networks with their colleagues from across the province. Such face-to-face meetings are crucial when chapters are spread in all corners of Saskatchewan. In meeting together, chapter representatives are able to identify common goals and concerns, while collaborating on strategies and solutions.

Thank you to all who were able to attend and make this event so successful.

Institut Français Bursary Winner

Canadian Parents for French-Saskatchewan offers an annual bursary to two students at the University of Regina enrolled full-time in the first year of the Baccalauréat en éducation française or the program leading to the Certificate in French as a Second Language at the Institut Français. This year the bursary was awarded to Amanda Jacek from Allan, Saskatchewan. Amanda writes of her experiences in learning French.

I began learning French at Allan school, where I took core French from grade one, which gave me a great base in my second language. In grade eleven, I participated in an exchange that permitted me to live in Sherbrooke, Québec for three months. I lived with a Francophone family and attended a French school. This immersion opportunity allowed me to learn a lot of French in a very short time.

I had such a great experience in Sherbrooke that I decided to participate in the Summer Language Bursary Program in Saskatoon. I lived with a Francophone family who introduced me to the Fransaskois culture, something for which I'll always be grateful.

When I returned to my core French class in grade twelve, I was able to help my classmates with the assignments. I also worked as a monitor at CPF-SK's Mini Rendez-vous. I loved the feeling of being able to help others learn French, as I had developed a great passion for it and loved sharing it. I knew that I wanted to be a French teacher.

That spring, I had the chance to intern at l'École canadienne-française, Saskatoon's Francophone school. I loved how proud all the students were to be Fransaskois, and the number of special celebrations that I was able to assist at, like the Carnaval, St-Jean-Baptist Day and the Fransaskois games. I felt very lucky to be a part of that school.

After graduating high school, I spent the summer in Jonquière, Québec doing the Summer Language Bursary Program again. I met Francophones and Francophiles from British Columbia to Acadia to Louisiana. I tried to speak as much French as I could to profit from this great opportunity.

In the fall I began studying in the Baccalauréat en éducation française program at the University of Regina. The majority of my classmates are Francophone or French immersion students, and I am a proud representative of the core French program, proving we can become fluent too. During my first year I was fortunate enough to find work in French, again with Canadian Parents for French-Saskatchewan as well as at the University of Regina's Institut Français and a summer job with le Conseil de la Coopération de la Saskatchewan.

I am now in my second year of the Bac program, doing my immersion year at l'Université Laval in Québec City. I am teaching English to grade seven and eight students and I've been able to practice my second-language teaching methods. I'm also interning in grade ten and eleven French classes, something which I love. I love living in Québec and being surrounded in French, but I'm also eager to get back to Saskatchewan, which will always be my home.

I'd like to thank all the people and organizations which have enabled me to learn French and helped me on my way to becoming a French teacher: Teresa Field, the Official Minority Language Office, Lisa Charpentier, the University of Saskatchewan, Canadian Parents for French-Saskatchewan, Amélie Thériault and l'École canadienne-française, Cégep de Jonquière, the University of Regina, le Conseil de la Coopération de la Saskatchewan and l'Université Laval. Merci beaucoup!

Rendez-vous 2005

Rendez-vous 2005 was a huge success thanks to everyone involved and to our wonderful participants. Forty-one students from across Saskatchewan came together in the University of Saskatchewan's Arts Tower for a weekend of fun and fantastic activities – en français! The event was held from Friday, February the 25th to Sunday the 27th.

After arriving Friday evening, students were treated to a pizza dinner followed by ice-breaker activities led by CPF-SK's enthusiastic French-language monitors. Later in the evening the Association jeunesse fransaskoise did an amazing job of hosting a dance with some rocking French music.

It was great to see the kids letting loose and experiencing French music at its finest!

Saturday morning began with a delicious breakfast. Starting at 9:30, each group of students had the opportunity to take part in five diverse workshops:

Vivez votre destin/Live your Destiny: Presented by Mathew Conley of North Battleford. This workshop included a variety of leadership-based improvisational games and team building activities.

Défendeurs de la terre/Earth Crusaders: Presented by Tyler Whale. A hands-on workshop where students had the chance to try their luck at cleaning up oil spills, while learning about many other environmental aspects.

Création S.V.P/Creativity Please!: Presented by Genviève Messier. Students learned about the power of creativity and participated in several activities, including creating their own infomercial for an imaginary product.

La magie de la musique/Music Magic: Presented by Gaétan and Julien LePage. This workshop allowed students the chance to create and perform a song in a style of their own choice...backed up by an actual rock band!

Fashionistas: This workshop was presented by each of the monitors with their group. Students were asked to create their own brand of clothing to suit their personal style. Then they got to create a t-shirt with their logo.

Earth Crusaders at Work

Saturday after supper, everyone packed up their swimming gear and marched off to the pool for some more fun. Then it was back to the Arts tower for the Talent Night. Each of the five groups presented the songs they created in the Music Magic workshop, backed up by a tried and true rock'n'roll band. Next each group showed off their newly created apparel, in a flashy fashion show. The evening continued with presentations from many of the students, everything from Irish dancing, to a trumpet and saxophone duet, skits, songs and so much more. The amount of talent in that room was absolutely astounding!

Rendez-vous 2005 wrapped up Sunday morning. Along with their monitors, the students were sent on a treasure hunt spanning the beautiful University of Saskatchewan Campus. Upon making their way back to the Arts Tower, each team was awarded with prizes galore. Soon after, bags were packed and the parents began to arrive.

This event would not have been such a great success were it not for our Youth Programs Officer, Jacqui Gillies, our French-language monitors, Andrea Krekoski, Natalie Gaudet, André Patenaude, Daniel Ramage, and Erica Potié, and our most excellent caterer, Odette Pearce. CPF-SK would also like to extend a special thank you to Alex Sokalski, head of the Department of Languages and Linguistics at the University of Saskatchewan, and to the College of Arts and Sciences for being most generous and providing us with facilities at no cost. And, like all of our events, Rendez-vous would not have been possible without the support of the Official Minority Language Office of Saskatchewan Learning, and Heritage Canada.

The Benefits of Learning French

On February 10, 2005 two students were invited from Prince Albert French immersion programs to give a speech to teachers and administrators on the benefits of learning a second language. Clark Northey, from Carlton Comprehensive High School presented the following:

Le rôle de l'immersion française dans ma vie

Bonjour chères et chers professeurs d'immersion de français de Prince Albert. Je m'appelle Clark Northey, et je suis un étudiant de la douzième année à Carlton Comprehensive High School. Mes parents m'ont inscrit dans le programme d'immersion à l'âge de quatre ans. Mon premier goût de la langue française m'est venu à « l'école des petits », à ce temps dirigée par Mme Jara MacFarlane et Mme Louise Pullen. Mon prochain pas scolaire fut à l'école Valois pour quelques années, suivi par la conclusion de mon éducation élémentaire à l'école Holy Cross. Apprendre à lire, parler, et écrire le français était toujours un de mes intérêts, mais à ce point dans ma carrière scolaire, je ne connaissais pas les avantages à long terme d'être bilingue.

For the last five years I have been an active member in the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Program, and the Navy League of Canada for two years prior to that. Every year, the opportunity is given for Sea Cadets to apply for summer training courses. The fortunate cadets are selected as trainees for the summer and undergo two to eight full weeks of excellent military trade-specific training. My second summer, the summer of 2002, was spent on an Aerospace Studies course offered in St. Jean-sur-le-Richelieu, Québec. Acceptance for this course was based on academic marks and, most importantly, the ability to speak, write and learn fluently in both French and English. During the course of the training, I was able to fully comprehend the subject matter, fully complete any projects and most importantly, converse with all the in-province cadets.

L'été de l'an 2003 c'est passé en Colombie-Britannique avec un cours de huit semaines en but d'obtenir mon certificat de Mécanicien Naval. L'hiver arriva, et ils me demandèrent de revenir à la côte ouest pour travailler dix jours comme mécanicien sur un vaisseau d'entraînement. La section qu'ils m'ont donnée fut le groupe le plus intéressant avec lequel j'ai travaillé. La moitié du groupe de cadets venaient du Québec, et l'autre de Terre-Neuve. Expliquer une routine de feu premièrement en français et après une demi-seconde la ré-expliquer en anglais était un défi intellectuel quotidien; mais la session des questions était encore plus difficile. La capacité de parler le français m'a aidé de façon énorme envers presque tous les aspects de ma carrière en tant que cadet. Aussi, le français m'a aidé à garder mes choix ouverts au cas si un jour, je décide de devenir un Officier bilingue dans le Département de la Défense Nationale.

I know that I am truly fortunate to have gone through the French immersion program for both my elementary and secondary education. I believe that my parents made the best decision enrolling me in this program and encouraging me to remain involved despite its challenges. Canadian Parents for French provided me with excellent opportunities for me to develop my French language skills and live the French culture, and will continue to do so. Taking part in trips to Bellevue day camps and the Concours d'art oratoire proved to be a wonderful learning experience. My future aspirations presently include entering university in the fall of 2005. I plan to maintain my French language and promote it whenever I can.

I would like to thank all of the French immersion teachers that I have had the privilege to learn from as well as all the teachers from other schools. C'est à cause de vous que la langue et la culture française sont passées à une nouvelle génération dans la vie quotidienne de la Saskatchewan, mais plus spécifiquement ici, à Prince Albert. Merci beaucoup de m'avoir demandé de parler aujourd'hui, je suis honoré de votre invitation.

I'm Teaching in French Because...

I've decided to teach in French because I have so many options. I can teach in a Francophone school, with its amazing culture and spirit; I can teach in an immersion school and help students to become fully bilingual; or I can teach core French and give other students like me a base in French to facilitate further second-language experiences.

I've decided to teach in French because not everyone can. I am lucky enough to be able to easily learn a second language, and I want to pass on my skill to others.

I've decided to teach in French because I have been fortunate enough to have had wonderful teachers who have passed on their enthusiasm for the French language and culture during my own learning process. I would consider it a wonderful opportunity and privilege to provide the same chance to others.

I've decided to teach in French because I am passionate about it. I have had numerous experiences in the Quebecois and Fransaskois communities and I fell in love with both the language and the culture. I am extremely proud to be able to communicate in both official languages and I can't wait to afford the same opportunities to my students.

CPF-SK Welcomes Jacqui Gillies as Youth Programmes Officer

Jacqueline Gillies is the newest member of the CPF-SK office staff, and yet another French immersion success story. Jacqui was born and raised in Morinville, Alberta, a small Francophone community just north of Edmonton. At fifteen, Jacqui and her family moved to Regina, where she enrolled in the International Baccalauréat French immersion program at Thom Collegiate.

Since graduating, Jacqui has worked at many jobs that required her knowledge of the French language, including as a Teacher-assistant in Estevan, Regina, and Saskatoon, as well as at CPF-SK's Camp ultime and Mini Rendez-vous. "French has been a tremendous advantage in my life," says Jacqui. "Not only has it opened many doors for me, but it was an enormous help while traveling in Central America, where I picked up Spanish almost instantly!"

Jacqui looks forward to sharing her passion for linguistic duality with youth across Saskatchewan, through the many programs run by CPF-SK.

Le BAC

Le soleil se lève is a new musical resource for teachers of French. The product comes in two forms: CD or Teacher Guide with CD. The music is professionally produced and is performed by French immersion students in Saskatoon Catholic Schools. The resource offers everything a teacher could want: musical notation, instrumental and vocal tracks and a variety of learning activities for each song.

Opportunities for Youth

French for the Future

French for the Future is a national organization dedicated to promoting the French language, and the continuation of French-language education. Each April, French for the Future hosts their annual event for High School students, all across the country. This year Saskatchewan is benefiting by having both Regina and Saskatoon participating in this event. Grade eleven and twelve students will have the chance to participate in a variety of hands on workshops and go on a tour of the University of Regina and University of Saskatchewan campuses.

This year French for the Future is being held April 26th at the Institut Français in Regina, and at St. Thomas More College in Saskatoon. For more information, please contact the CPF-SK office.

Youth Advisory Director

CPF-SK is currently looking for a person between the ages of 18 to 25 to serve on its Board of Directors as a Youth Advisory Director. If this is of interest to you or you know a young person who would be a wonderful representative of linguistic duality among Saskatchewan youth, please send a letter of intention (only a letter of intention is required if nominating) along with your curriculum vitae to:

Camp Ultime

Le Camp ultime is a full immersion French summer residential camp, for students entering grades four through ten. It will be held the weeks of August 1-6 and August 7-13. This is a fantastic opportunity for students to keep up their French over the summer, while having tons of fun and meeting other students from across the province. Diverse and creative workshops are held daily, and include, sports, arts and crafts, swimming, canoeing, music, drama, nature, and hikes.

Camp ultime is held annually at Arlington Beach Camp on Last Mountain Lake. These are beautiful facilities, complete with dormitories, showers, laundry, and dining room. The facilities also include a zipline, horseback riding, and archery.

Space for Camp ultime is limited, so please register as soon as possible. For more information, please call the CPF-SK office in Saskatoon. Forms and information are also available online at www.cpfask.com under the Youth Programs section.

Volunteer!

CPF-SK is grateful for the many volunteers that work to support French second-language activities in Saskatchewan. There are many opportunities for young people to volunteer: as assistant monitors for events, working at registration tables, putting up posters and stuffing envelopes. Not only do they perform a community service, youth benefit by using their French in an informal, fun setting. A special thanks to the twelve young people who volunteered to stuff envelopes for our camp brochure mailing. Merci beaucoup!

Opportunities for Youth

Fête du soleil

Fête du soleil is a popular one-week summer day camp, offered by CPF-SK in coordination with local chapters. This one of a kind program is offered around the province to children in kindergarten through grade five, who are learning French as a second language. Throughout the week, enthusiastic French language monitors lead the children in games, sports, arts and crafts, and many more exciting activities.

Registrations for Fête du soleil are now being accepted. For more information, please contact your local chapter or the CPF-SK office in Saskatoon. Forms and information will be available online shortly at www.cpf-sask.com under the Youth Programs section.

Concours d'art oratoire

CPF's annual public speaking competition is underway for another year. Speeches are being prepared and presented in schools and school divisions across the country.

Grade six to twelve students, winners in their own schools and school divisions, will compete in a provincial final on Saturday April 30 at Holy Cross School in Saskatoon. Grade eleven to twelve provincial winners will receive an expense paid trip to Ottawa to compete in the national finals. As an added incentive, national winners will be eligible to receive a $20,000 bursary offered by the University of Ottawa. See the CPF-SK website for more details.

CPF-SK is looking for volunteers to help out in Saskatoon at the provincials on April 30. If you would like to get involved call the CPF-SK office.

Les Jeux de la francophonie canadienne

Les jeux de la francophonie canadienne are just one of the Fédération de la jeunesse canadienne's many projects. Each year the games involve over a thousand athletes and artists between the ages of 13 and 18, from each province and territory in Canada. As well as encouraging youth to use their artistic and athletic talents, the games instill self-confidence and cultural pride, while helping participants to develop leadership abilities in a fun and exciting environment.

This year les Jeux de la francophonie canadienne are being held from July 20th through the 24th in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Support Équipe Saskatchewan this summer at this exciting event !

Photography Contest

French for the Future is holding a photo contest for youths in which you can send pictures that best captures the spirit of French for the Future. You may send in up to 3 entries. Each participating city's winner will receive an MP3 player. The grand prize winner will receive a digital camera. For more contest information, please click please follow the links under Youth Programs on the CPF-SK website at www.cpf-sask.com or www.french-future.org

Did you know...

L'AJF is a non-profit organization that works with French speaking youth from all across Saskatchewan. The association hosts activities for French speaking youth aged from 14 to 25. Our goal is to demonstrate the possibility of living your French culture even in Saskatchewan. We provide opportunities for youth to demonstrate their talents and refine their skills whether it is through sports, politics, leadership or the arts.

Every year over 400 French speaking youth from every corner of the province participate in our activities. The most popular ones are; the Parlement jeunesse fransaskois (youth parliament), Équipe Saskatchewan (Team Saskatchewan), the Jeux fransaskois (provincial track and field), and the Forum CLÉF (leadership).

At our annual general meeting we elect our administrative council. The elected youth decide for themselves and for the members, not only the annual programming, but our official positions on any current events.

At AJF we count on dynamic youth that want to enrich their skills in French or just want to be involved. If you are interested in our activities please give us a call and we will gladly provide additional information. In the meantime keep a look out for upcoming activities.
